Saba

Saba makes you feel right at home the moment you sit down. Ergonomically designed with a gently curved support for your back. The arms have a subtle curving that's so much more stylish than being straight. The armrests mean that your shoulders can fully relax which helps you unwind whichever room you are in. So you could have this as a spare armchair in your lounge, conservatory, dining room, home office, hallway, landing or bedroom.

Each curve is meticulously crafted. Plus it is made from solid wood - Sungkai hardwood, famed for its strength and durability. Sometimes called white teak, its grain is still visible through the black and suits any contemporary setting.
